New Art Gallery to Open in Henkel Square

The Humble Donkey Studio Brings Area-Inspired Original Artwork to Round Top, Texas

Round Top, Texas – March 14, 2016 – The Humble Donkey Studio is set to open this week at the historic Henkel Square in Round Top, Texas. Featuring original artwork from artist John Lowery, the gallery will open in time for Round Top Spring Antique Week.

John Lowery, who began his artistic career painting missions for NASA, now draws his inspiration from the land he purchased two years ago in Burton, Texas. Painted mostly in acrylic on canvas or wood, Lowery's artwork portrays the beauty of the Texas Hill Country and highlights imagery of longhorns, cows, donkeys, white-tailed deer, and scenic landscapes.

The new Humble Donkey Studio will be housed in one of the many charming Henkel Square historical homes, which dates back to the mid-1800s. The gallery will feature Humble Donkey original paintings, as well as giclees, posters, merchandise and more. Guests who visit Humble Donkey will be treated to a laidback, friendly atmosphere with free beer, Texas country music and good conversation.

Visitors can find The Humble Donkey Studio at 192 Henkel Circle, Round Top, Texas. Current gallery hours are 12:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m, Wednesday; 10 a.m. – 5 p.m., Thursday – Saturday, and 11 a.m. – 4 p.m., Sunday. During Round Top Spring Antique Weeks, March 23 – April 3, Humble Donkey will be open every day from 10 a.m. – 5 p.m. (closed on Easter Sunday).
